Jon Philibert

Jon Philibert was born in South London in 1948. Jon is one of the UK's most successful British country songwriters in recent times having notched up cuts on such Billboard-charting artists as Bobby Bare, Jimmy Payne, Carmol Taylor and Judy Lindsey. In 1983 Tom Jones recorded Jon's song "I've Been Rained On Too", a top ten country smash becoming Jones' longest ever country-charting single staying on the Billboard charts for an amazing and unprecedented 22 weeks. The song has subsequently been recorded numerous times including a version in 1988 by British country superstar Charlie Landsborough.

Today Jon works with both UK and Nashville writers and continues to achieve cuts on a regular basis.
